FOR YOUR GUESTS

Speeches & Toasts

Our wedding co-ordinator following the receiving line, will ask guests to be upstanding to greet their Bride and Groom.

§ She will then call upon the nominated person to say Grace before the meal, if the main speeches are not first. Otherwise she will call upon the Best Man to continue with the speeches

§ Our wedding co-ordinator will also announce the cutting of the cake following the dessert course.

Speeches are made in the following order

§ The Best Man calls upon the Bride's Father or Family Representative to speak, who proposes a toast to the Bride and Groom

§ The Best Man then calls upon the Groom to reply. The Groom will thank the parents of the Bride, thank the guests for their kind gifts and then propose a toast to the Bridesmaids

§ The Best Man replies on behalf of the Brides maids, and calls the Groom's Father to say a few words.

§ The Best Man may then call upon the Clergyman to speak before he opens the floor to other guests

§ Finally the Best Man or Groomsman will read any cards or telegrams
